D., Sunday night, and lynched by a mob.

The lynching had apparently been coolly planned, and was carried out without a break in the programme.

A MESSAGE FROM ABOVE.—Scientists in Binghamton, N. Y., are puzzling over an aerial visitor that dropped in that vicinity early yesterday morning. Prof. Jeremiah McDonald, who resides on Park avenue, was returning home at an early hour yesterday morning when there was a blinding flash of light and an object buried itself in the ground a short distance from his premises. Later it was dug up and found to be a mass of some foreign substance that had been fused by intense heat. It was still hot, and when cooled off in water, was broken open. Inside was found what might have been a piece of metal, on which were a number of curious marks that some think to be characters. When opened the stone emitted a strong sulphurous smell. Prof. Whitney, of the High School, declared it an aerolite, but different from anything he had ever seen. The metal had been fused to a whitish substance, and is of unknown quality to the scientific men who have examined it. The aerolite is now on exhibition, and will be placed in the geological collection of the High School. Several persons have advanced the opinion that this is a message from another planet, probably Mars. The marks bear some resemblance to Egyptian writing, in the minds of some. Prof. McDonald is among those who believe the mysterious ball was meant as a means of communication from another world.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

Governor O'Ferrall has issued his last Thanksgiving proclamation. He says:

"The President of the United States, by proclamation, has set apart Thursday, the 25th day of November, 1897, as a day of Thanksgiving and prayer. In conformity with said proclamation and in due recognition of our obligation as a nation and a State to Him who created all things, and who preserves and governs everything by His almighty power and wisdom, I, Charles T. O'Ferrall, Governor of the Commonwealth of Virginia, do most earnestly request that on that day designated the people of this Commonwealth will abstain from all labor and withdraw from their usual vocations, and around their family altars and in holy places where walls were raised for Divine worship, unite in giving thanks and rendering praises to the Mighty Ruler whose blessings have been so lavishly bestowed, that if we would thank Him for all, we would have no time to mourn over our misfortunes. Let it be written and proclaimed everywhere within our borders 'God reigns.'"

"The year just drawing to a close has been peaceful and tranquil. The general health of the people has been good. Neither tempests nor violent storms have done us injury. We have escaped the blight of drought and the destruction by early frosts. Our friendly soil has yielded bountifully, our crops have found fair markets, our domestic industries have been quickened, affording employment to multitudes who were idle, and with cheerful faces we look into the future, feeling that a Ruling Providence has not forsaken us as a nation or State."

"Let Thanksgiving-Day be also a day for family reunions, the strengthening of the ties of friendship, the cultivation of patriotic sentiment and pure ideas of government, and lofty and independent thought."

"Let it also be a day when the poor, who are always with us, will not be forgotten, remembering that 'it is more blessed to give than to receive.'"

SHOT BY THE KING OF DUKES.—J. W. Wager Kirk, "King of Dukes," who possesses forty suits of clothes, and who went to New York from Chicago and Denver to show New Yorkers how to dress, shot and dangerously wounded Richard Mendelbaum, a sporting man, at the Gerard Hotel, just before midnight on Saturday. Mendelbaum was shot in the groin and over the heart. Physicians say he will probably recover. The shooting occurred in a hall in front of Kirk's room. Both men are cigar salesmen and were associated in Chicago and Denver. Roundsmen Paulding, who arrested Kirk, told the reporters that the shooting was the result of a quarrel, following the discovery by Mendelbaum that his wife was in Kirk's room.

Kirk was held in $2,500 bail on a charge of shooting Mendelbaum. Kirk said he shot in self-defense, declaring that Mendelbaum struck him with a blunt instrument.

TWO NEGROES KILLED.—Mr. C. R. Brewer, who keeps a store at Satterley's wharf, St. Mary's county, Md., and his son killed two negro men Friday. The latter entered the store in a drunken and disorderly condition and upon Mr. Brewer's refusal to sell them liquor left the store but later returned each with a gun and began the demolition of everything within reach. Mr. Brewer and son obtained guns and shot both of the negroes. Their names are not known, but it is supposed that they were oyster shuckers from Baltimore.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The temperature which was high last week—the thermometer registering 60 to 70 degrees, due, it has been claimed, to the proximity of meteors—suddenly became colder yesterday evening and this morning snow has fallen in many parts of Scotland and the north of England. In addition, the east coast is swept by a severe gale.

QUEENSTOWN, Nov. 15.—Particulars have just been received of the wreck of the British steamer Rutherglen, from New York for Plymouth, which foundered in a gale when 380 miles west of the Fastnet. Her crew was picked up by the Norwegian bark Hermanos and reached Crookhaven. Destitution and Death. BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 15.—Frank McLaughlin and his wife Mary were found in an unconscious condition in their home in South Boston this morning. Both had been shot and both it is thought will die. The man was revived by the physicians and in a short time was able to talk. He informed the police that his wife had shot him while he was asleep, and that she afterwards attempted to kill herself. McLaughlin, who is in the advanced stage of consumption, had been ordered to the hospital to-day. The police believe that his wife, driven to desperation, decided to end both of their lives. They had lived in abject destitution and there was only a single piece of bread in their rooms. Two weeks ago a child born to the couple died at the age of two weeks, and the event seemed to weigh heavily on the woman's mind. Two weeks ago she requested her husband to purchase a revolver for her, as she wished one with which to protect herself after he had gone to the hospital, as at that time it was expected he would be compelled to go soon. McLaughlin bought the revolver, which was the one used in this morning's shooting.

To Restore Independence Hall. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 15.—This morning workmen began tearing down the many additions to Independence Hall that have been built from time to time and which marred the simplicity of the historic structure. The entire block facing on Chestnut street has been shut in by a board fence and not a brick nor a board of the old building will be allowed to be carried away. The building occupied by the University Law School will be torn down, as will also several small structures which were added to the main hall when the building was occupied by the city officials. It is the intention to restore the old building to as near the original design as possible.

Destroyed the Village. VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 15.—The German warship Falke, which was dispatched from Australia on receipt of the news there of the murder of the trader Von Hagen, in the island of New Guinea, has returned. The Falke steamed to the village in which the murderers of the late acting Governor were known to be secreted and without a word of parley opened fire with artillery. This so terrified the natives that they at once surrendered the two boys wanted for the murder. The Falke continued to shell the village, despite this conciliatory measure and left no building standing.

The Horse Show. NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—There were but few people present in Madison Square Garden to-day at the hour set for the opening of the thirteenth annual exhibition of the National Horse Show of America. The doors were opened at 9 o'clock but for the ensuing hour the great amphitheatre was only partially occupied. In the afternoon there was a little better attendance but still the number of visitors present was small, partially on account of the unfavorable weather. It is claimed that society, which for so many years had patronized the show, has tired of it.

Didn't Know it was Loaded. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 15.—Cecil Robinson, 14-years-old, shot and instantly killed his 17-year-old sister, Mattie, last night, at the Robison home on Jefferson avenue. The young Robison was locked up, but was released when it was established that the shooting was an accident.

Assassinated. FAIRBURN, Ga., Nov. 15.—Henry Turner, wife and sister, while crossing a small potato field leading to the main road on their way to this place and when less than half a mile from their home, were shot down by an unknown assassin. CONTESTS.—Notice was received at the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth yesterday that A. M. Willis will contest the election of George W. Settle to the House of Delegates from Rappahannock county. The ground upon which the contest is based is the allegation that Mr. Settle was at the time of his election and is now sheriff of his county, and that he was, therefore, ineligible for election. L. B. Lestour, the defeated republican candidate in the Cumberland-Buckingham district, will ask the House to seek him, although the face of the returns shows that B. W. L. Blanton was elected by 87 majority. The electoral board failed to print the names of the House nominees on the ballots used in Cumberland county, and Mr. Lestour says that by the refusal of the election officers to allow voters to use written slips in preparing the ballots he lost several hundred votes. George W. Settle's election to the Senate from the Washington district will be contested on the ground that in Washington county he was voted for as Charles W. Steele.

BANKS CLOSED.—There is intense excitement at English and throughout Crawford and Perry counties, Indiana, over the collapse of four banks, which will affect nearly every man of means in the two counties and seriously cripple the county treasurers and township trustees, all of whom deposited with the broken banks. No one suspected that the four institutions which have gone under were not on a safe financial footing. The banks were owned by J. H. Wethers and R. H. Willett. One had been established at English, another at Mandigo, another at Cannellton, and a fourth at Leavenworth. The revenue collected for school purposes was all on deposit in the banks, and it is now believed that all of the public schools in the two counties will have to be closed, as the trustees have lost all their money.

THE POTOMAC BRIDGES.—Col. Allen, corps of engineers, reports that the making of test bearings on the trial lines of survey of the proposed memorial bridge across the Potomac from the old observatory grounds to the Arlington estate has been continued throughout the entire month of October. It is expected to complete the bearings this month. Col. Allen also makes a report of recent operations for the repair of the Aqueduct bridge. The contractors have repaired the cofferdam around pier No. 3. The stairway and two fences along the sidewalk between the piers 3 and 5 have been built and the interior cofferdam is practically finished. Active operations at the cofferdam have been recently suspended on account of the weather. Col. Allen says the removal and reconstruction of the pier before freezing weather is impossible. The ends of the spans will therefore be lowered to their seats and will rest upon the masonry pier for the present.

A ROUGH GAME OF FOOTBALL.—The Virginia Polytechnic Institute and the Richmond College football teams met in Richmond on Saturday. The game from start to finish was one-sided, and it was full of incidents, several players being quite badly injured. The V. P. I. boys made seven touchdowns and four goals, while the locals did absolutely nothing. The accident started in the very beginning of the game and followed one another in rapid succession. Scott, of Richmond, started with a sprained knee. The score of Richmond, fractured a rib, Frasier of Richmond, sprained his arm, and immediately afterward Whitehurst, of V. P. I., dislocated his collarbone. Jones, of V. P. I., then received a severe blow on his head, which caused a slight concussion of the brain. The score, when the game was called on account of darkness, was 38 to 0 in favor of V. P. I.

EVANGELISTS NEAR MANASSAS.—The mill of Mr. John B. Hornbaker, near Manassas, was broken into Friday night and the iron safe robbed of part of its contents. The mill was unoccupied during the night, and the burglar made his entrance by forcing a rear window. The safe was drilled and then forced. Money to the amount of $8.50 and checks for $22.50 were stolen. Government coupons to the amount of $2,000, together with a number of notes, bonds, securities and other papers were in the safe at the time, but these were not touched. It is supposed that the man who attempted to rob the safe some time ago returned with an expert, and this time accomplished his purpose.
